In the world's broad field of battle,
In the conflict of real life,
Advertising is the secret
Of achievement in the strife,
Lives of rich men all remind us
We can make our own sublime;
And by liberal advertising
To the highest summit climb.

FAYETTEVILLE OBSERVER.

Tell me not in mournful numbers,
Advertising does not pay;
For the man's non compus mentis
Who would such absurd things say.
Life is real! Life is earnest!
And the man who hopes to rise
To success in any calling,
Must expect to advertise.

NEWS AND COMMENT.

"THERE is a bill before the New York legislature to exempt newspaper reporters from jury duty." We guess Mr. CHOATE, the reporter of the World in the Flack case, wishes the law had passed before he got into his present trouble.

OF course all will agree that Fayetteville is preeminently the most suitable place for holding the nominating convention of this Congressional District. We have one of the best public halls in the State and splendid hotel accommodations for visitors.

UP to last week the subscriptions to the capital stock of the Greensboro Iron and Steel Company made a total, according to the statement of the Workman, of $300,000. When the subscriptions have reached the sum of $500,000 the books will probably be closed until a sale of land is made.

MISS JULIA CARMICHAEL, a young girl aged seventeen years, of a well-known family in Washington, N. C., killed herself on the night of the 9th inst. with a pistol. She was alone in her room at the time of the occurrence, and refused, before her death, to make any statement regarding the matter.

"AGAIN the highly virtuous Republican organs are denouncing the gerrymander in Ohio under which sixteen districts are cut out for the Democrats and only five are made Republican." It is hardly necessary to recall the old, mossy-back story in the much-abused blue-back "Webster's Speller" of "your bull and my ox," or "my bull and your ox."

"NEVER sell your bear-skin until you kill your bear." Chicago is being taunted with being the "Windy City" in fact, in that her subscription to the World's Fair on paper fails to "pan out" a subscription in hard cash. The World's Fair Congressional Committee are insisting on such a guarantee as will show that Chicago really means business in this matter.

NATURALLY taking it for granted that a progressive community like Greensboro cannot have too much of a good thing in the way of journalism, the excellent Patriot is to set its tempting bill of fare before that people daily as well as weekly hereafter. The world is big enough for everybody, and we know that this addition to the feast will not have the effect of making the people of Greensboro forget the Workman, the long-time faithful caterer to their needs, the devoted friend and promoter of all their best interests.

THE rendition of HARCOURT'S "Passion Play" at the Cirque d'Hiver in Paris on the 4th inst., with SARAH BERNHARDT representing the Virgin Mary, created an unbounded sensation, and for a time the excitement was so incontrollable that the actors were unable to proceed with their parts. M. HARCOURT, author of the play, advanced to the footlights, and stated that the rendition of the next scene would be delayed for a few moments to give discontented persons an opportunity to retire. The ejectment by the police of thirty or forty disorderly men and boys quieted the disturbance.

BROWER is like the poor man: "bound to see trouble;" and, if we permitted ourselves to be profane, we would complete the adage, and exclaim, "and d——n him, let him see it." The Goslen wing of his party in his district have been after the "Little Czar" with a sharp stick for a long time, and now the negroes, in convention recently assembled at Greensboro, utterly repudiate him and all his methods, promising to make it tropically sultry for him in the approaching campaign. It's a "Kilkenny cat-fight with us," and in all the scratching and flying of fur we don't care much who gets hurt. At any rate, BROWER is a bold little duffer, and hits straight from the shoulder—which is more than can be said for some of the malcontents within the same political fold.

HAVING found a fit receiver of stolen goods, the Republican party seized the Presidency in 1876 with all the brutum fulmen of the highwayman who crys "stand and deliver" to a true man. Their plan for capturing the chief magistracy of the nation in 1892 lacks the boldness of their coup d'etat fourteen years ago, but it promises to be none the less efficacious, so long as the Democrats in Congress submit to the tyranny of the dominant party. They offset the popular majority against them of about 100,000 in 1888, and the unmistakable verdict against them at every State election since that time, by the creation of pocket States out of the great expanse of the territories as completely subservient to their behests, under the corrupt rulings of subsidized courts, as the rottenest English borough ever was subservient to the chicanery of a Parliamentary Committee. Without a single political principle that has not been repudiated by the masses of the people, held together only by the "cohesive power of public plunder," the perpetuation of their power can be accomplished only by the violation of law and the disregard of the plainest constitutional provisions.

"Sounds of Music."

Literary Editor in Blocksburg, S. C., News.]

The universe is an instrument, and God is the player. The Omnipotent Designer alone can finger the mystic keys which bring forth such mysterious melody. It was the time when light broke over Eden, and the dawn, rosy with delight, marched to the sacred music of the spheres, that the morning stars sent up their first enraptured chorus to the white throne. Richer and fuller flowed the pæan through the open gates of Heaven, until the symphonies of Eden grew discordant, and the reckless finger of man dared to mingle jars with the Divine consonance and throw a world out of tune. Then followed a prolonged strain of dissonance until it melted away into a celestial melody; and a star, throbbing to music measure, hung trembling over the manger which sheltered One who was to tune this discordant universe. That pierced hand has never ceased tuning at the world's heart, converting the jangling keys of discord into sounds of concordance. Nature herself, like a great organ, yields her own peculiar music. Spring with its April alto sounds the full Soprano of summer; and autumn's high falsetto gales, with the roaring bass of winter's winds, fill up the chord of the year's quickstep. I have heard a tender wail-like solo quiver out from among the pines until the winds went away sobbing; and when the night winds come down to play with the river reeds one may distinctly hear their humming serenade to the water lilies. I have noted the beautiful crescendo and diminuendo of the summer shower. Very soft and low the music comes sprinkling through the trees, over the roof and against the panes. The verdure brightens, the proud beauties of the garden bend their heads and listen; an eletric thrill shoots through the bosom of the dark clouds, and the thunder comes in with a booming chorus that sets the aspen to quivering. I have analyzed the music of a stream from the fountain-head to the sea. Up among the rocks the drops fall into the little pools below with a quick trickling drip like the higher note upon the piano. Further down, where confluent rivulets form one common current, a lower but louder treble gladdens the woodlands; while yet further south, where the city and town grow upon the banks of the broad stream, we hear those deeper notes which lie at the base of all harmony, and we at last hear the grand bass rolling up from the rock by the sea. What is life but song? Our early notes are sweet with the burthen of tenderness and affection; the middle strain is startling and imperious in its proud melody, and at last in a softened diminuendo we glide down the scale and mingle in that best of all harmonies, eternity's grand anthem.

A Hermit's Prophecy.

Atlanta Constitution.]

In August, 1857, the Bavarian Allemeine Zeitung printed a remarkable prophecy, which had been made by an old hermit many years before.

In it the rise of Napoleon III was clearly outlined, as were also the Austro-Prussian and the Franco-Prussian wars, as well as the commune of Paris. He told how the death of Pope Pius would occur in 1876 or 1877, and how it would be followed by a Turkish war, being but slightly wrong in either prediction.

He said that Germany would have three Emperors in one year before the end of the century, which was verified to the letter. He missed it one, so far, in the number of Presidents of the United States that were to die by assassination, which was very close, to say the least of it.

He predicted that when the 20th century opens Manhattan Island and the whole of New York city will be submerged in the waters of the Hudson and East rivers and the bay; Cuba will break in two, and the west half with the city of Havana will find a watery grave.

Florida and Lower California are to break loose from the mainland, and carry their loads of human freight to the bottom of the sea.

The 25th President is to be the last President of the United States, while Ireland is to be a kingdom and England a republic by the end of the century.

The United States are to be divided, and San Francisco, Salt Lake City, New Orleans, Washington and Boston are to be made capitals.

To return to Europe—the end of the century will find neither France nor Italy on the map, and Berlin will have been totally destroyed by an earthquake.

Moral of Universal Application.

Independent.]

A deserving poor workingman was walking homeward from work with a shiftless and envious workingman, when a wealthy gentleman rode by in a splendid carriage. Deserving poor admired the turnout, and declared that he, too, should one day ride in his carriage. But shiftless and envious asked what right the wealthy gentleman had to live in such luxury and idleness, while he, who worked so hard, had nothing, and he said he believed he would allow all his days to be next to a beggar. And deserving poor managed well, lived on less than he earned, became an honest contractor, and finally accumulated a large fortune. And shiftless and envious always kept himself poor by spending all his earnings. Then follows the moral of universal application: "Workingmen in this country, if they will practice industry and economy, dispensing with all unnecessary expenses, and living on less than they earn, will gradually become capitalists, to a moderate extent, at least, and some of them will become rich."

Courtesy in the Household.

To abbreviate or neglect the forms of politeness is really to diminish the needs and sentiments of the heart. As soon as one ceases to express outwardly even the most essential sentiments, these sentiments become weakened to a certain degree in the soul; they lose something of their delicacy and energy. The cultivation of the forms of politeness must be begun in family life between husbands and wives, parents and children, brothers and sisters. Until courtesy is honored in the household it will not appear elsewhere.

In the gloaming, oh, my darling,
When I come thine eyes to see,
Tie the dog up—tie him tightly—
Then I'll feel it safe for me.

"I have an attachment for you," affectionately remarks the sheriff to his victim.

Confederate Gold and Silver.

Gen. Thomas was commander of the military division of the Mississippi. He learned the latter part of April that Mr. Davis had started southward from Charlotte, N. C., with a large escort. He immediately directed Stoneman to send the brigades of Palmer, Brown and Miller to scout down the Savannah river from Anderson, S. C., to Augusta, Ga. At the same time Wilson, at Macon, Ga., was ordered by Thomas to look out for Davis. There were thus two cavalry commands hot at the flying President's heels.

Davis's last cabinet council was held at Abbeville, S. C. At that council were present Gens. Bragg and Beauregard and five Confederate brigadiers, one of them being Basil Duke, who has written the story of the interview. To the amazement of all, Davis still urged fight. He recalled the struggles of the Revolutionary War, and said: "Three thousand brave men are enough for a nucleus, around which the whole people will rally when the panic which now afflicts them has passed away."

Then the Confederate President asked for suggestions for the future conduct of the war. Not a word was spoken. Then for the first time it swept over the mind of Davis that the end had indeed come. His face turned the pallor of death. He arose and exclaimed in bitter tones that all was indeed lost. Then he walked away. As he did so Gen. Beauregard followed him hastily and offered to the fallen chieftan his arm for support.

With Davis were his wife and family and sister-in-law, Miss Howells. Five Confederate brigadiers still accompanied them. Rather strangely, too, the contents of the Confederate treasury, amounting to between $500,000 and $600,000, in coin had been kept safely with the fugitives through all their wanderings. It had actually been brought to Abbeville, loaded in open box-cars, in shot bags, wooden boxes and in a variety of nondescript parcels. From Abbeville, S. C., the fugitives went to Washington, Ga., and all this coin was transferred from the box-cars to wagons, in which it was hauled across the country. At the Savannah river Davis himself ordered that of the silver coin $110,000 should be divided among the troops. Basil Duke says the share of his brigade was divided between officers and men alike, and that each received $32. All night long the qartermaster of the five brigades remained in a little cabin counting out the silver. Next day, at Washington, Basil Duke turned the rest of the coin over to the acting Confederate States treasurer. What became of it thereafter has never been fully explained.

Next morning, with an escort of twenty picked men, under Capt. Given Campbell, of Kentucky, Davis started with his family towards the Florida coast. Basil Duke says:

"I have never believed, however, that Mr. Davis really meant or desired to escape after he became convinced that all was lost. I am convinced that, wearied by the importunity with which the request was urged, he seemingly consented, intending to put himself in the way of being captured. He and his party were admirably mounted, and could easily have outridden the pursuit of any party they were not strong enough to fight."

Mr. Cox Said the Word.

St. Paul Pioneer-Press.]

The following little anecdote shows the ready wit of the late S. S. Cox. It was during his visit to Huron, S. D., that a young lady accompanied by her best young man was introduced to the honored guest. Extending her hand to him, she said very gushingly:

"Oh, Mr. Cox, I am so glad to know you and hear you speak. Just say one word, one single little word, that I can say I have heard your voice."

The roguish statesman squeezed tenderly the soft white hand that was laid in his, glanced at the faces of the young couple standing before him, and in a sweet, low voice said:

"Matrimony."

'Tis unnecessary to state that the day was soon named.

Pace of the Camel.

New York Ledger.]

As a matter of fact, and in spite of its having carried Mohammed in four leaps from Jerusalem to Mecca, seven miles an hour is the camel's limit, nor can it maintain this rate over two hours—a slow pace, beyond which it is dangerous to urge it, lest, as the Asiatics say, it might break its heart and die literally on the spot. When a camel is pressed beyond this speed, and is spent, it kneels down, and not all the the wolves in Asia will make it budge again. The camel remains where it kneels, and where it kneels it dies. A fire under its nose is useless.

The Emperor's Decoration.

A romantic story attaches to the new decoration announced by the Emperor of Japan in commemoration of Emperor Jimmu's coronation, 2,550 years ago. The distinguishing feature of the decoration is a golden fish hawk. The legend is that during Jimmu's conquest of eastern Japan the sky one day became suddenly dark, and a fish hawk of golden hue settled on the Emperor's crossbow. The bird threw off a brilliant light, by which the enemy were dazzled and the Emperor's forces were victorious.

Rice Plantations in the South.

Rice planters in the South are accustomed to burn their straw to get it out of the way. It is understood that recent practical tests have demonstrated that this straw makes excellent paper material. One paper company has gone so far as to order 3,000 or 4,000 tons of the straw for further experiment. Rice straw may yet prove to be a cotton seed in miniature. At any rate, the results of these experiments will be watched with interest.

Mother—My boy, I didn't mean to whip you so hard.

Willie (who has been stealing jam)—That's all right, ma; I didn't get enough jam anyhow, and I will go and get me a little more.

"Blast those cats," said Podgers, "I don't believe I've slept an hour all night on account of them."

"Still, you are better off than they are," replied Codgers, "for I don't believe that they've slept a minute."

To have what we want is riches, but to be able to do without it is power.

DEATH OF SAMUEL J. RANDALL

Hon. S. J. Randall, member of Congress from the State of Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Washington City on Sunday morning, 13th inst., of internal cancer, after long illness and terrible suffering.

Mr. Randall was not an old man, as the lives of public men go in this country and in England—having not quite attained the age of 62 years at the time of his death—but he had filled a large place in the scope of public vision, having served continuously for 26 years in the lower house of the Congress of the United States, in which he filled successively the important positions of Speaker and Chairman of the Committee on Rules and of the Committee on Appropriations.

In his knowledge of parliamentary law and usage Mr. Randall had no equal in either party of his time, and hardly a superior in the history of all the public men of his country.

Perhaps his most conspicuous service to his party was his splendid leadership in the great contest over the "Force Bill," which took place in the 43rd Congress. Mr. Mr. Randall was not in accord with the dominant wing of the Democracy on questions of tariff reform, but even those who differed with him most widely never underrated his abilities or mistrusted his integrity.

He was endowed with most of the shining qualities which characterize those who become leaders among men: strength and tenacity of purpose, extensive and varied information, devotion to principle, the courage of his convictions and wonderful power in impressing them upon others. He was a matchless tactician, and one of the most trusted counselors of his party in its great struggles for supremacy. His State and his country have been bereft of much by his death.

IMPORTANT MEETING.

At a meeting of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry, in their armory last Monday night, it was resolved to invite the honorary members of the Company to meet with the present active members next Monday night, and discuss jointly the question whether or not the Company shall discard the gray and adopt the blue, otherwise designated as the State Regulation uniform.

Every man living who has been a member of the Company since its organization in the year 1793 up to the present time is most earnestly invited to be present, and especially is it desired that every active member of the Company shall answer to the roll-call next Monday night.

You will be called upon then and there to say whether or not you desire to turn your back upon an insignia that distinguished your ancestors for four long years as the grandest heroes the world has ever known, from the crack of the first rifle at Big Bethel till Lee "furled that banner" at Appamattox; an insignia that is as dear to the hearts of our people—from the Potomac to the Rio Grande—as was it to those of our forefathers who now lie sleeping beneath the sod on yonder battle-fields. Moreover the Company is asked to take this step without assigning any just cause for such an act; only that the other companies composing the State Guard have adopted it.

Some will no doubt charge us with keeping alive sectional animosities, but if there be such they know but little of what they are talking about, for the man who performed his part well and faithfully in that bloody drama on the Northern side, we will go as far to shake hands with over the bloody chasm as any man beneath the broad canopy of heaven, and say to him, "well done, thou good and faithful servant." But "blood is thicker than water," and gray was a part and parcel of the Confederates and blue was a part and parcel of the Federalists. For the Yankee who clings to the blue we admire no less than the rebel who clings to the gray.

In this matter we hope every man will vote according to the dictates of his own conscience, but for one—without any disposition whatever to keep alive sectional feelings and issues of twenty-five years ago—we are unalterably opposed to the change anticipated, and indulge the hope from our inmost soul that a majority if not all the members will rally to our support, and stand up for the gray against the world.

Should his Excellency, D. G. Fowle, Governor of North Carolina and Commander-in-chief of all the forces, in his "wisdom and sagacity" see fit to sever the F. I. L. I's. connection with the State Guard, an organization that has rendered the State faithful and gallant services when and wherever called upon for nearly one hundred years, simply because they fail to fall into line with some new "fandangle" idea, we say: "may the Lord have mercy on his soul."

In conclusion, we desire to say, in justice to Governor Fowle, that he was not the instigator of this law, nor was he in any wise responsible for its passage, and that this writer was among the first to criticise adversely its enactment. We stand to-day unmoved and unchanged.

A blunder at the "case" made us speak of the visit of Rev. Dr. Crowell, President of Trinity College. It should have been Prof. Clewell, Principal of Salem Female Academy, who was the guest of Mr. Thos. H. Sutton.

POLITICS IN THE WEST.

According to the last issue of the Greensboro Patriot, politics in the Western District of North Carolina present a nice "kettle of fish." Like Cleveland, Harrison has made some bad appointments, and now it has been openly charged by members of his own party that the most corrupt bargains existed between Collector Eaves and Congressman Ewart, the combination extending so far as to embrace the former's subordinates. This fact, however, we have seen denied, but the Patriot says "recent developments seem to give color to these charges, and furnish, doubtless, the reasons why Eaves' confirmation still hangs fire." The Patriot states that it is "reliably informed that Collector Eaves stands indicted, in the United States District Court at Statesville, charged with defrauding the Government. The specific charge is that he endorsed a note for one of his office deputies, after this, on the first of the month, he discharged this clerk, but about the 20th of the month reinstated him, and at the end of the month issued him a check for a full month's salary, which check the clerk endorsed to Eaves, and Eaves applied to the liquidation of the note. In order to get this check, it was necessary for the Clerk and Collector Eaves to do a lot of swearing that a full month's service had been performed, etc., which, as is charged, they did.

To add "fire to fury," the colored Republicans in Brower's District held a mass meeting in Greensboro a few days since and denounced the gentleman from Surry in unmeasured terms, adopted resolutions in favor of nominating a colored man from that district this year, and gave Brower and his henchmen to understand that they would no longer blindly follow the teachings of the G. O. P. Should such a program be carried out the Democrats in the old Fifth will have smooth sailing this year; otherwise, we can count the men on the fingers of one hand who will be able to defeat Brower. They are "Baldy" Williams, of Granville, John L. King, of Guilford, Hon. J. C. Buxton, and Henry E. Fries, of Forsyth. None others need apply. This may sound a little strange, emanating from so staunch a Democratic journal as the Fayetteville OBSERVER, but the man who underestimates Brower's political trickery and chicanery will only find out his mistake too late.

ISSUES OF THE DAY.

There was one man who was President of the United States for a short time who has no place on the roll, and whose name has not come down to this generation heralded by fame, nor will it be treasured by posterity as that of one of the great of the earth. David Atchison, of Missouri, was President pro tem. of the United States Senate at the time of the death of Zachary Taylor, and during the twenty-four hours that elapsed before the oath of office was taken by Millard Filmore there was no chief executive of this nation. We are not informed that David Atchison attempted to assume any of the prerogatives and authority of the Presidency during his brief term of office, but he would have been acting inside the law had he done so.

Personal Pencilings.

Dr. H. W. Lilly is able to be out again after a brief illness.

Miss Kate Fairley, of Manchester, is visiting Mrs. R. W. Bidgood.

Glad to see Col. E. F. McRae, of the Maxton Union, here yesterday.

Misses Bertie McDuffie and Loula Glover have been visiting Dunn, the guests of Mrs. Evans.

Rev. Dr. T. H. Pritchard was the guest of Capt. and Mrs. A. Garrason during his stay in the city.

Rev. John Huske, the eloquent young rector of the Episcopal Church at Erie, N. Y., is paying a visit to his father, Rev. Dr. J. C. Huske, of this city.

Mr. George Brandt and Leon Brandt returned from New York Monday, whither they went last week to purchase their spring stock of clothing, notions, etc.

Miss Maggie Pemberton is gladly welcomed back home by her many warm friends and admirers, after a long visit to her charming friend, Miss Nellie Waddell, at Smithfield.

Hon. T. H. Sutton has been in Raleigh this week attending a meeting of the committed appointed by the last Legislature to look after the assessment of certain Railroad interest in this State.

Mrs. Geo. H. Hall has returned from Georgia, and is visiting the family of her father, Mr. A. J. Woodward, on Haymount. We are glad to know that there is a probability that Mr. and Mrs. Hall will again locate in North Carolina.

From Down the Line.

Reported for the Observer.]

BENNETTSVILLE, S. C., April 11, 1890.

South Carolina hangs those who deserve it; house-burners and horse-thieves are dealt with severely. Bob Shelton, colored, who was convicted at our last term of court for burning the barn of Col. C. S. McColl, gave an example of the above fact to-day by paying the penalty of his crime at the end of a rope. About 10:30 oclock he was brought from his cell, the death-warrant read to him. Assisted by deputy sheriff McDuffy, he mounted the scaffold, and at 10:45 the trap was sprung and Bob Shelton landed into eternity without a struggle. He appeared very much excited and unnerved, praying in loud tones for "the Almighty to save his soul."

The farmers are busy planting.

The oil Mill continues to run night and day.

Col. McColl has moved into his new and mammoth brick store, which, by the way, is the largest in this section and would do credit to a city.

It is thought that we will have two more Railroads here; one from Society Hill by the A. C. L. and the extension of the C. F. & Y. V. to Darlington.

X——

P. S. Do you want a piece of the hangman's rope to send your delinquent subscribers? [By all means.—Eds OBSERVER.]

Manchester Cullings.

For the Observer.]

On Tuesday Mr. J. F. Clarke and Mr. M. D. Clarke went to Wilmington on the merchants' excursion.

Mr. Charlie Russell, of Jonesboro, came down this week to visit his sister, Mrs. J. F. Clarke, going on hence to Wilmington.

Mrs. W. L. Williams, of Little River Academy, has spent some days with Mrs. J. E. Elliot; also Mrs. Roxanna McNeill.

Mr. C. H. Seagle and Mr. D. M. Fairley, of Spout Spring, spent Sunday here.

Mr. Geo. H. Haigh spent several days here last week.

Dr. J. A. Hodges, of your city, recently made us a fleeting visit, creating quite a sensation with his span of fine horses.

Wondering who visiting strangers are is the chief topic of comment; who could have set the woods on fire is the next—with an occasional muttered wish for spring costumes.

The weather is too delightful for anything but rambles after spring trophies, or lazily rocking in a big arm-chair—anyhow, that's my excuse for so few letters sent.

BON AMI.

Delayed.

The partial destruction of a trestle by fire, between Greensboro and Mt. Airy, yesterday, delayed the East bound passenger train several hours.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mount, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do to my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug Store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to robust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory, and the ageney whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so much is heard in praise of Electric Bitters. So many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach of long or short standing you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Sold at 50c. and $1 per bottle at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug Store.

DIPTHERIA is dangerous when it gets among our little ones, but there is no danger if you will give them Radam's Microbe Killer. It never fails to cure, and as a preventive it is sure. For sale by B. E. Sedberry & Son.

1111 OGDEN ST., PHILA, PA., March 28th, 1890.

MR. RADAM:

Dear Sir—Had a violent attack of acute inflammatory rheumatism, which was promptly and quickly cured by your Microbe Killer. I used flannel bandages around the limbs and arms wet with it, besides using it internally.

MRS. B. T. JENNY.

For sale by B. E. Sedberry & Son.

A small investment when health can be obtained should be no consideration, and Radam's Microbe Killer will surely kill the microbes, and when that is done you cannot be sick. For sale by B. E. Sedberry & Son.

NOT "LA GRIPPE."

What is the matter, Eli?
Sick.
Got the grippe?
No. I'll tell you what's the matter.
I bought nearly all the goods I wanted before I went to the Racket Store, and now I find I could have saved at least 25 cents on every dollar if I had gone there first, and it makes me tired.
That is what I told you, Eli; always try the Racket Store first. Don't forget it, or you will be sick again.

NOTHING SUCCEEDS LIKE SUCCESS.

The reason RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER is the most wonderful medicine is because it has never failed in any instance, no matter what the disease, from LEPROSY to the simplest disease known to the human system.

The scientific men of to-day claim and prove that every disease is

CAUSED BY MICROBES,

—AND—

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER

Exterminates the Microbes and drives them out of the system, and when that is done you cannot have an ache or pain. No matter what the disease, whether a simple case of Malaria Fever or a combination of diseases, we cure them all at the same time, as we treat all diseases constitutionally.

Asthma, Consumption, Catarrh, Bronchitis, Rheumatism, Kidney and Liver Disease, Chills and Fevers, Female Troubles in all its forms, and, in fact, every Disease known to the Human System.

Beware of Fraudulent Imitations!

See that our Trade-Mark (same as above) appears on each jug.

WORD OF WARNING!

BEWARE OF FRAUDULENT IMITATIONS!

They are usually cheaper, as they use that method of imposing on the public. One of them held their price at $2.50 per gallon for nearly two years. Not being able to get their medicine in at that, they have now reduced it to $1.50, which is evidence enough that it has not met with success. A good medicine sustains itself in all communities. A cheap medicine is the last thing on earth a suffering man wants. The genuine sold only in one gallon jugs at $3.00 per gallon.

Cause of Disease, as Given by the Scientific Men of the Age.

Monsieur Pasteur, who for years has made them a special study, first discovered that minute insects were the causes of spreading the most deadly contagions through their astonishing rapidity of reproduction. Pasteur discovered them in myriads in human blood, in sheep and rabbits and rats. He found that the Microbe was the direct cause of the Variolosis, or Smallpox—Bronchitis, Yellow Fever and other contagious diseases.

The Microbe in the human system attacked by Variolosis is thread-like, cylindrical, somewhat swelled. It is the smallest of all powerful magnified animal organism. It breeds by the thousand per minute. Pasteur, after making a close study of the Microbe, discovered that the quickest way to exterminate them was by the free inhalation of Oxygen gas, or by liquids charged with that gas; but admits that the time must come when some powerful liquid will be discovered that will effectually destroy the Microbe, and that liquid must contain such gaseous combinations as will directly destroy, in the human body, those germs or microbes of disease.

Dr. Maolangan, a prominent member of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, says:

The idea that many of the diseases to which man and the lower animals are subject result from the presence in the system of minute organisms or microbes, is not a new one.

The introduction of the microscope, the discovery of the yeast plant, and the further parasitic nature of many cutaneous diseases have proved conclusively that it is attributable to the Germ or Microbe Theory of Disease

This theory has positively proved that many diseases are due to the presence and propagation in the system of minute living organizations. It is essential, therefore, to become thoroughly acquainted with the class, kind, very competence of the Germs that produce what is now termed the Phenomena of Disease.

Contagious Infection is created, by absolute experience and scientific experiments and proofs, by the existence of minute organisms or microbes The contagion, or microbe, being irregularly scattered about in the atmosphere, it is evident that the inhalation of one or more of these particles is purely a matter of chance Yet by such inhalation, no matter how healthy and strong the man or animal thus inhaling it, it will as a matter of course, be stricken down, sooner or later, by the myriads of microbes that will, according to the contagious poisonous matter inhaled, breed into his system. To exterminate those it has been found that liquids strongly impregnated with gases and alkalis have been the most efficacious, and it is but a matter of time when a liquid strongly impregnated with those substances will be discovered that will effectually destroy the microbes or Germs of Disease

It is an organic form of such extreme minuteness as to be classified under the head of Micrococci. The Microbe is spheroidal, transparent and of gelatinous consistency. It enters the human system by inhalation, or exists in the water or milk we drink, or the food we eat. It is able to stand the greatest amount of heat. By the most careful study and frequent experiments, microbes have been inducted, by ivory needles, into meats that have been thoroughly roasted and boiled, and yet, when taken from the ovens, pans, gridirons or pots, the microbes have been found to be yet alive and propagating, thus showing that even cooking has no effect on them.

Prof. Tyndall says of Microbes: They are found in myriads and countless shapes, floating in the air, destroying man, as well as beasts and vegetation. The virtual triumph of the antiseptic system of surgery is based on recognition of living contagia or microbes, as the agent of purification; and, the discovery made, it behooves the closest study of the subject by the physician, surgeon, chemist, agriculturist, in fact by all men, to discover some powerful liquid substance, being charged with some so far undiscovered gaseous substance, that will penetrate through every tissue of the human animal or vegetable system, and effectually destroy the death-dealing pest, the microbe.

The word Microbe was first introduced by Prof. Charles Sedillot and indorsed by the great philologist Little, who caused its adaptation by the Academie de Sciences of France, and thus had it admitted as a scientific term to be used by all scientists.

Science has taught us that the direct causes of contagious diseases are directly attributable to a minute, invisible, yet death-dealing insect, feeding, living on the germ of corruption inhaled, absorbed in the system, whether human, animal or vegetable.

It is designated in Science as the Microbe: the most deadly of all animalculae, propagating millions, and spreading disease wherever it makes its appearance. The extermination of that curse to the human race has taxed the ablest scientists, who have devoted hours of study in each and every branch of their different researches, to check the frightful inroads made by the Microbe upon whatever it attacks.

Wm. Radam, a florist and a botanist of Austin, Texas, who, from his early boyhood, had been brought up to take care of and watch tenderly over the plants, seeding slips, that were extensively grown in his farther's world-famed nurseries, having frequently seen his favorite plants suddenly droop and die, was the first to make the Microbe his special study, and its extermination the object of his life.

Fortunately for William Radam, he was able to command the means that enabled him to purchase the instruments needed to perfect his experiment, as he patiently advanced in his studies of the microbe. He was not the man to rely merely on book learning, though he studied the theories advanced by scientists.

William Radam, after years of patient study and analysis, found the true origin of the Germs of Disease, and by a secret inspired by Nature's close study was able to produce what will be read below as the exterminator of the dreadful scourge Microbe—as recommended by the greatest authorities, and world-famed authorities, on that subject, who all admit that to exterminate the pest and scourge requires just such a liquid, surcharged with gases, as William Radam's Microbe Killer.

Testimonials.

Now read the testimonials and convince yourself if they are genuine or not. Please investigate, I will forfeit $1,000 if you find any of our testimonials not genuine. We will give address, so that you can write to any of them. Please do not forget to inclose a stamp, and you certainly will receive an answer. We have a great many other testimonials in our office and have the consent to show them to the afflicted—but have no authority to publish them. From the following testimonials you can see at a glance that this medicine cures every disease:

Consumption.

Fasadena, May 13, 1889.—Microbe Killer Co. I can recommend Radam's Microbe Killer for the cure of consumption. I have been sick four years. I have employed the best physicians in San Francisco, San Jose, Los Angeles, and I am now taking my fifth jug of William Radam's Microbe Killer. I have gained fourteen pounds in three months, and I note a steady improvement. The medicine has accomplished more for me in the short time I have tried it than all the doctors and the out lay of $7,000, and I hope all my friends who are afflicted in the same way I was will use it.

J. F. RENOULT.

Formerly of San Francisco, now a resident of Pasadena

Complicated Disease.

Sacramento, April 3, 1889.—Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: I take pleasure in adding my testimonials to that of others who have been cured by the virtue of your me icine. I have been afflicted for several years, and for the last three or four years haue not been able to work, having been confined to my bed a good deal of my time. My system was so thoroughly poisoned from catarrh of over thirty years standing, in connection, with the alarming symptoms of malaria and diseased liver, that life was a burden. As a result, the liver, kidney, urinary organs, heart, bronchial tubes and lungs were all involved, causing dyspepsia, neuralgia and rheumatism, with many alarming indescribable symptoms. Have been under the care of physicians and taken all the popular patent physics and medicines of the day, and belt, batteries and baths without avail, and had almost given up hope of relief. But one of God's good and perfect gifts to man (through the instrumentality of man) was made known to me by a letter to my wife from her father, a man of seventy-six, in Albany, Mo., stating that Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer was curing all diseases given up by physicians, and advising me to use it and not give it up until a cure is effected. Coming from the source it did, I at once had two gallons expressed from St. Joseph, Mo., costing me $3 per gallon, but the cheapest medicine I ever took. Commenced taking it in December last. Have taken seven gallons and have been improving slowly, but surely. Have now gained my usual weight, and feel better than for years. Am over 60 years of age. No money would induce me to be without it in my family. I hear many good reports from those who are now using it. Yours respectfully, etc.

L. L. GODDARD.

Dyspepsia

Lynchburg, Texas.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents Radam's Microbe Killer, Houston, Texas: My sufferings from dyspepsia and bayou fever made my life a misery, and at times I was so despondent as to care little to live, when I heard of your great medicine, and purchased a gallon. It gives me pleasure to inform you that before a gallon had been used $1,000 could not have bought the remainder of the gallon had I not known where to get more.

Yours truly,
CAPT. GEO. L. SMITH.

Dysentery.

Galveston, Texas, March 10, 1888.—A Behrends, Agent for Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer.—Dear Sir: I have been suffering for years with a complication of diseases which originated from diseased liver. I had dysentery, bloody flux and internal tumors. I consulted some of the most eminent physicians in the city, and used their medicines for a long time without getting any relief. I was finally given up to die, when a friend advised me to try the Microbe Killer. As the last resort, I gave it a trial, and the relief it gave me was wonderful. When I commenced to take Microbe Killer I weighed only eighty-six pounds; my present weight is 145 pounds, and I am restored to my usual good health.

JOHN W. DERRICK.

Sworn to and subscribed to before me this 10th day of March, A. D. 1888. JOHN A. CAPLEN,
Notary Public; Galveston Co. Tex.

San Marcos, Tex., Sept. 17, 1887.—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: The Microbe Killer, is a splendid thing. Can I get the agency here? My little boy that was affected with worms is cured and getting fat and rosy. My father is also using your medicine, and is improving very fast. Very respectfully,
MRS. ALICE LEE

Deaf & Dumb Institute, Austin Texas, July 11, 1888.—Mr. William Radam—Dear Sir: I certify that I have been a great sufferer with pains in my chest, catarrh in the head, and headache for years. I have spent hundreds of dollars in travelling in Colorado, Utah, California, Oregon, Montana, Wyoming and Minnesota, and found no relief. I have used four gallons of your medicine and I am almost entirely well. My headache and catarrh are gone. I am still using the medicine. I will send another gallon to my brother.
W. H. LACY, Superintendent

Houston, Texas, October 9, 1888.—Messrs. Wallace O'Leary & Co., Agents William Radam's Microbe Killer—Gentlemen: I have been using the Microbe Killer for malarial fever and general debility, and write you to certify that I am again strong and healthy, and am satisfied that Microbe Killer is a sure remedy for those diseases.
R. E. LEWIS.

Prop. Capital Stables.

Nashville, Tenn.—I have been a sufferer from Asthma, Catarrh and Bronchitis for nearly twenty years. I have tried the best physicians and remedies without any relief and now, since I have been taking Microbe Killer, I am entirely cured and can recommend it to all.
M. HERNSSIN, J. P.
Nashville, Tenn.

To Whom it may Concern:—This is to certify that after taking one jug of Microbe Killer I was permantly cured of a severe attack of bronchitis and pulmonary inflammation, said illness having resisted all methods of medical treatment.

I cheerfully recommend Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer as being more than is claimed for it.
HENRY V. MIELLY,
With Rice Born & Co., 77 Camp street, New Orleans, February 27, 1887.

The only case of Leprosy ever known to have been cured by any medicine. James Kavanagh, Jr., is now entirely recovered and is back again in New Orleans. We are treating five other cases of Leprosy, all successfully.

Fifth District, New Orleans, July 23, 1888—To whom it may concern: I positively assert that my son was afflicted with that most hideous and loathsome of diseases, Leprosy, and of a character most malignant. Any persons who may be skeptical regarding this case are most cordially invited to call and see him now, or at an early date at my residence, No. 167 Eliza St, Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, because if not seen soon and he continues to improve as he has since beginning to use Wm. Radam's Microbe Killer, they will not have an opportunity of giving an honest verdict concerning his case.
Respt'y, James Kavanah.

Algiers, Fifth District of New Orleans, July 24, 1889.—I, the undersigned, do hereby declare that I have been afflicted with Leprosy for over four years. My sickness has been declared Leprosy by the leading physicians and the public generally, being entirely abandoned and left alone to die, but thanks to Mr. Radam, whose medicine or Microbe Killer I have been using for five weeks with the most beneficial results, I am satisfied that by continuing his great and wonderful remedy a few months longer I shall be able to go to work and support my poor and aged father, upon whom I have been a drawback in his declining years.
JAS. KAVANAGH, Jr.

Heart Disease

Radam's Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: My son, 14 years of age, was cured with less than one gallon of Radam's Microbe Killer, after being given up by physicians as incurable with enlargement of the heart. My wife was also cured of a severe bronchial trouble after a failure on the part of the physicians to relieve her.

I confess it far superior to all known remedies.
R. B. KIRKPATRICK.
Sacramento, Cal., April 27, 1889.

Rheumatism.

Nov. 14, 1888.—The William Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: Having tried every suggested remedy for Chronic Rheumatism for more than ten years, I was dubious as to the efficacy of your Microbe Killer, but am frank to admit that a cure, (and I hope a permanent one) was the result after having taken not quite the entire jug you sent me according to directions. Accept my thanks. I am dear sir, respectfully yours,
FRANCIS P. DOOLY.
Knoxville, Pa.

New York, Sept. 25, 1888.—Wm. Radam Microbe Killer Co.—Gentlemen: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect the Microbe Killer had on me, I would say that if it cost me $100 per gallon, I would not be without it. I took it three weeks, and am now free of all pains and aches. I suffered for the past ten years with muscular rheumatism, and it has been so bad at times as to prevent my attending to business. Very truly yours,
JOHN BLAKEY,
233 Broadway, N. Y.

Kidney Troubles.

Philadelphia, March 30, 1889, S. E. Corner Fourth and Market Streets.—Wm. Radam—Dear Sir:—I have had kidney troubles for three years, accompanied with pains and aching across my back and hips. Suffered very much at times; at night I had pains across the lower part of the abdomen; had considerable inflammation at the neck of the bladder. In general, it almost broke me up. I could get no relief from anything I had taken until I commenced with your Microbe Killer. I feel now like a new person; I will further explain my case to any one writing me. Would advise any one with any disease of the kidneys to use the Microbe Killer.
ELWOOD PICKETT.

Piles.

St. Joseph, Mo., Feb. 15, 1889.—By using Radam's Microbe Killer I have been cured of piles of many years standing.
JOHN LATHEM,
Room 2, Opera House Building.

Frightful Torture

By the ravages of Rheumatism can be stopped with slight cost if you use Radam's Microbe Killer. By external as well as internal treatment you get almost instant relief.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Dear Sirs:—Having suffered with Rheumatism of the nerves for three years, I used five gallons of the Microbe Killer, and I feel entirely cured. I have the greatest confidence in recommending its use, and will keep it on hand as a general tonic. If you desire you can refer any suffering from same disease to me. Respectfully,
MRS. W. L. DELACY,
Oak Park, Ill.

RADAM'S MICROBE KILLER CO.:

Gentlemen:—I have had your medicine, Microbe Killer, in my family ever since I heard of it last summer. My health has been excellent ever since I began taking it. My family, so far, has escaped la grippe that has been afflicting our neighbors and every body else. I firmly believe in the Microbe theory, and shall never be without the Killer.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

"The Dispersed Abroad."

It gives us pleasure to give publication to the following complimentary mention of one well-known in Cumberland and contiguous counties, taken from the Jersey City Evening Journal:

Dr. W. F. Faison, house physician in the city hospital, leaves for his paternal estatee in North Carolina next Monday, his time having expired. Dr. Hill will succeed him, and an examination will be held this afternoon for a successor to him. Dr. Faison was very popular in the hospital, and enjoyed the confidence of the medical and surgical staff. He was cool in critical moments, steady under exciting circumstances, and had a wonderful faculty for properly diagnosing disease. His departure will be a loss to the institution.

"Of the Making of (Railroads) There is No End."

The following, from a recent issue of the Wilmington Review, will be read with interest by those who have noted Southern railroad developments for the past three years:

The surveying party who have been in the field looking out a location for the projected Mt. Pleasant, Santee & Little River Railroad are in the city. From statements made by them it would seem that the intention is to build a line direct from Mt. Pleasant, which is in Charleston harbor, to Georgetown and thence to Wilmington. If the road comes here direct from Georgetown it will leave Southport to the right, which is to be regretted, as we were in hopes that this road would strike that town on its way north. It is said that the movement originated with Philadelphia and New York capitalists.

We have reason to believe that these people mean business, and that this road will be built not only from Charleston to Wilmington but on to Norfolk. If this is really done it will not be many years before there will be three coast lines running through Eastern North Carolina. The Coast Line will soon have a second line, and this will make the third, and it is probable, although not certain, that Wilmington will be a terminating point for all of those lines. Let them come: we can stand it if they can.

Mr. W. P. Fife at Laurinburg.

Of the religious fervor and interest developed by the meetings in Laurinburg recently, the Exchange speaks with glowing enthusiasm, and has this to say of Mr. W. P. Fife's powers as an evangelist, and of the results following from his great work:

Of Mr. Fife it must be said that he is truly a prodigy in the cause of Christ. Engaging in the evangelistic work not quite a year ago, with an untrained mind, his great development is surely surprising. Already he has acquired a knowledge of the Bible from which he draws and accurately quotes passages of scripture to substantiate the truth of his assertions and arguments on any subject.

* * * * * * *

Of the effect of his series of meetings, which closed last night, God only can fully judge of the great good done. The first noticeable effect was that, for the first time in the history of Laurinburg, most of the business men closed their stores to attend and let their clerks attend all the services. Another was the revival of the active church members, begetting a spirit of work which pervaded the entire membership of all denominations, and was demonstrated in divers and various ways. Another was the reconciliation of men and women, who had been estranged from each other for months and years. Another was the pledges of hundreds of men to drive liquor from the land, and the pledges of hundreds of ladies to refuse the company of young men whose breath was laden with the scent of rum, and also the promises of 30 men and women to erect family altars in their homes. Another was the reclamation of at least 150 back-sliders and the conversion of at least 150 sinners, both numbers including gray-haired and middle-aged fathers and mothers, young men and women, boys and girls, the conviction of a large number of all classes, and already 75 applications for church membership. Another was Mr. Fife's so imbedding himself in the warmest affections of this people that wherever he goes prayers from their grateful hearts will follow to strengthen him in his good work.

Making the Land to "Blossom as the Rose."

Starting the deep springs of progress where the giant forests curtain the scarred and ancient sides of the Blue Ridge; laying bare the bountiful resources and the magnificent possibilities of the Piedmont plateau; opening to market the exhaustless timber and cotton lands of the Cape Fear section; and binding together with bands of iron and ribbons of steel the towering mountain and low-lying coast, the mist-wreathed pinnacle and the wave-lashed beach—the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway is rapidly accomplishing its mission as the greatest work of internal improvement in the South. Industries follow its undulating track; material development marks every additional mile of this great commercial highway; its bustling towns we count by the dozen, its thriving villages by the score, its growing hamlets by the hundred. A reporter of the Wilmington Messenger has gathered the following information regarding one of the most flourishing stations on the eastern extension of the line:

A popular traveling salesman from this city, recently returned from Autryville, is enthusiastic over the marvelous growth of that town. Twelve months ago the place was a forest and the town was not dreamed of, but since the C. F. & Y. V. Railway has been completed, a thriving little town has sprung into existence with classified stores as follows: A grocery and drug store with Mr. F. I. McKenzie as manager, a first-class hardware store with Mr. J. T. Williams as manager, a large and elegant dry goods store under the management of that courteous and popular gentleman, Mr. B. L. Culbreth, and a general store under the superior management of Mr. Sol Faircloth, the old reliable. Besides these there is one general store-room for the storage of all kinds of goods. The several stores mentioned here are all under the general supervision of the merchant prince, Capt. J. L. Autry, who is sole owner. We venture the assertion, said our informant, that no new place in the State can show as handsome freight receipts for six weeks as this little town, the receipts at the depot having aggregated $3,300 in that time.

There is a splendid hotel in the town, and it is under the excellent management of Miss Emma Lockamay. Considerable other improvements are also under contract, and the improvements are substantial ones at that, all the buildings being first-class and not of the shanty style.

Near the town is a spring of splendid water, and pipes carry the cold and limpid beverage into the town limits where everybody can get it for use.

Fire at Dunn.

Harnett Courier.]

Last Monday about 4 P. M. the Waddell house on Wilson street caught fire, and but for the hard work of the citizens a large portion of the town would have been burned. Just in this connection we wish to state that there have been fires in our town at different times, and so far, but little harm, as it was found out in time to prevent damage, and at none of the fires so far has any one worked harder and rendered more efficient service than the colored citizens. There is not any of them that own property in town, yet when there is a fire they do everything in their power to stop it. We mention this with special pleasure, and assert that in no place is there to be found more worthy or honorable colored people than in Dunn. They are real good citizens.

Forest Fires.

Forest fires destroyed about two hundred cords of wood for Mr. M. McD. Williams near Spout Springs Sunday and Monday, besides doing other damage.

Boat Excursionists.

A very pleasant party from this city went down last Tuesday to the Wilmington celebration by river, on the Steamer Cape Fear. To us the river trip is always pleasant, and at this season of the year, with congenial companions, it is delightful.

Invitation to the Wilmington Light Infantry.

At the meeting of the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry on Monday night an invitation was extended to the Wilmington Light Infantry to participate, as the guests of the former company, in the Memorial services in this city on the 10th of May.

"A Thing of Beauty."

There is not only wealth of beautiful goods in the mammoth store of Frank Thornton, on Hay street, but there is artistic taste within its walls to display the novelties and triumphs of style and fashion to the best advantage. The show window display for the past two or three days has been faultless.

Rumored.

It is rumored that Fayetteville will soon have another first-class machine-shop, equipped with all the modern machinery for the manufacture and sale of wood-working machinery of every description. Such an enterprise should receive the hearty encouragement and undivided support of the people throughout this section.

Saw and Planing Mills Burned.

Mr. Z. B. Newton's saw and planing mills in the neighborhood of Beaver Creek were destroyed by fire last Sunday about 11 o'clock, together with several hundred feet of lumber, entailing a loss of about $1,000, with no insurance. The fire is supposed to have originated from some burning-saw dust. Mr. Newton will rebuild at once.

Invitation to Attend the Lee Monument Unveiling.

The Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry received an invitation Monday night to attend the ceremonies in Richmond May 29th, incident to the unveiling of the Lee Monument. Many of the members are especially desirous of attending these ceremonies, and the OBSERVER would delight to see the Southern soldiers turn out on this occasion in countless numbers.

The Merchants' Excursion.

Some few prospective participants in the celebration at Wilmington passed down the road on Monday, and quite a large number from the western and southern extensions of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway met at this point on Tuesday, departing for Wilmington on regular schedule time. Fayetteville sent a considerable representation, a good part of which went by steamer.

A Capital Idea.

A movement is on foot, and committees have been appointed, to investigate the matter of erecting a handsome three-story building in this city for the accommodation of the various lodges, and to provide an armory for the Fayetteville Independent Light Infantry. We think the idea a capital one, and indulge the hope that the matter will be pushed to a speedy completion.

Cripple Creek Extension of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R

From Capt. Strange, the Assistant Civil Engineer, we learn that altogether about three and a half miles of the Cripple Creek extension of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway between Mt. Airy and the Virginia line has been graded, which leaves only about three and a half to build. At present there are about four hundred and ten convicts at work on this extension, and it is thought now that the work will be completed by July. At the junction of the C. V. & Y. V. and the Norfolk & Western a new town, known as Garibaldi, has been laid off, and the prevailing opinion is that when the two roads reach that point Garibaldi will be a town of several hundred inhabitants.

Mr. Geo. W. Waddill, a native of Fayetteville, now one of the leading and prosperous business men of Bennettsville, S. C., was registered at the Hotel LaFayette last Tuesday.

Our Heartiest Congratulations.

A telegram received here yesterday announced the marriage of Mr. B R. Huske, a young business man of conspicuous ability and high character, of Fayetteville, to Miss M. E. Oliver, a lovely and accomplished young lady of New Berne, that morning—Rev. John Huske performing the ceremony. The happiness of their wedded life will be complete if at all commensurate with the cordiality of our good wishes.

"An Unknown Friend."

A few days since some noble-hearted and generous friend of the young men, as well as lover of Christ, made a donation of two hundred and fifty dollars to the Young Men's Christain Association of Fayetteville through Mr. B. E. Sedberry. For the present the name of the donor is unknown and will doubtless remain a profound secret for some time to come. At a meeting of the directors of the association last week the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That a vote of thanks be extended to the unknown donor of $250 for the benefit of the Y. M. C. A. of Fayetteville. That it shall be the prayer of the Association to our God that the kind benefactor may have happiness and prosperity in this life, and that when called away that he may see Jesus as He is.

The New Publishing Company.

Mr. J. E. Garrett returned on Saturday evening last from New York and Philadelphia, the object of his trip having been the purchase of type, presses and other material for the new publishing company of which he, Dr. H. W. Lilly, Capt. N. W. Ray and Mr. Jas. R. Williams are the incorporators and officers. The material of Mr. Garret's present job-printing office has already been removed to the 2nd floor of the Williams building on Hay street, which has been fitted up for the purpose; and, with the additions to be made to the capacity for good work of this already extensive establishment, the company confidently expect to execute all orders intrusted to them promptly and in unsurpassed style.

The corporators are among our most substantial citizens, and Mr. Garrett, the Business Manager, has been long known as one of the best job-printers in the State. The book-binding department of his business has recently been made very complete, turning out beautiful work, with Mr. Dicks as the capable superintendent.

Memorial Day.

The Ladies' Memorial Association met in Williams Hall on Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in accordance with the announcement made in last week's OBSERVER—Mrs. T. H. Sutton President; Mrs. S. J. Hinsdale Vice-President. There was a more than usually full attendance, and the Association was in session until nearly night in the transaction of the necessary business connected with the observance of Memorial Day.

Rev. W. B. Oliver was selected to deliver the prayer.

An invitation was addressed to Mr. H. R. Novitzky and his "Nine," with an urgent request that they favor the Association and the public with their incomparable music during the ceremonies.

The necessary committees were appointed who are to have in charge the arrangement and preparation of the different features in the exercises. The Chief Marshal and his assistants will be announced in due time.

In last issue we announced the orator, Mr. Walter H. Neal, of Laurinburg, who will deliver the annual address at the Cemetery, and not at Williams Hall. The members of the Association are laboring hard to render the services on the 10th of May beautiful and impressive, and we ask in their behalf the cordial cooperation of the whole community.

Religious Notes.

Rev. John Huske conducted divine services at St. Thomas's Chapel, on Hybart's Hill, last Sunday morning. The congregation was large—made up not only of the parishioners of the neighborhood but of many who had ridden out from town. Mr. Huske's discourse was made delightful to his heacers by the ripe scholarship with which the application of the student has enriched his mind, while it impressed them with the first-rate talent which will make Mr. Huske a power in his Church with advancing years. He preaches in St. John's Church next Sunday.

Union services of the Presbyterian and Methodist Churches will be held in the former church, the two congregations partaking together of the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, next Sunday.

Rev. Dr. Pritchard, of Wilmington, occupied the pulpit of the 1st Baptist Church on Sunday last, conducting the morning services, and edifying the congregation by a sermon of great ability and power. At night there were union services of the Baptist, Presbyterian and Methodist congregations, Revs. T. P. Barclay and C. W. Byrd assisting in the devotional exercises, and every seat in the body of the church and in the galleries was filled, while benches placed along the aisles were brought into requisition. Dr. Pritchard's discourse was addressed particularly to the young men: "Wherewithal shall a young man cleanse his ways?"—rather a lecture upon the ethics of life than a doctrinal sermon; fervent and eloquent; the deep, musical voice and dignified presence of the gifted speaker thrilling the listener, while his impassioned appeals and solemn monitions struck the chords of deep sympathy and feeling.

Col. Julius A. Gray, President of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway, gave us the pleasure of a call on Tuesday morning. He and Capt. J. W. Fry, General Manager of the road, came down in their special car, on their way to the celebration at Wilmington, accompanied by several friends.

Put Some Solid Masonry in the Structure.

We have had it in mind for some time to suggest respectfully to the young men and women of Fayetteville the organization of a reading, debating and literary club for mental training, instruction and recreation. We believe implicitly in the pithy adage that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy;" but it is not the less true that all play and no work makes Jack a very trifling boy, who will develop into a very useless man.

We do not confess to even a faint streak of straitlaced Puritanism in our composition, and, so far from objecting to the ball-room, the fox-chase and the billiard-table, we are warm advocates of those forms of amusement—partaken of in moderation, at intervals, and as incidental foils to the more serious concerns of life; but the head-piece has some claims in human economy as well as the "twinkling feet" and nimble legs, and the Almighty never intended his rational creatures to "rosin the bow," and dance and pipe from one end of the long corridor of life to the other. Broiled partridge is a toothsome delicacy, but only the fool bent on a big wager sits down to broiled partridge thirty days hand-running.

Nor do we join in the senseless crusade against the enjoyment of works of fiction. There is nothing unlawful in paying tribute to the imagination, and one can rise, even on the wings of fancy, very near to heaven. The man who finds no humor and pathos in Dickens, no beauty in Bulwer and Scott, no pungent satire in Thackeray, no creative genius in Collins, no dramatic power in Reade, would be very apt to fail to catch the golden melody of Patti's divine voice, or stand in reverent awe before the majesty of Niagara:—worse than

> The poor Indian, whose untutored mind
> Sees God in the cloud and hears him in the wind.

But it is unpardonable frivolity to thumb until they are dogs-eared the pages of the "Duchess," and "Ouida," and Mrs. Wood, and Byron, while dust settles upon Macaulay, and Gibbon, and Guizot, and Bancroft, and Draper, and Shakspeare. That which simply excites and pleases superficially is very unsatisfactory aliment for the mind, which craves stronger pabulum lest starvation gradually ensue. A rich dessert very acceptably supplements the solid dishes of the table, but we would wonder what sort of stomach and digestive organs that man had who announced that, for breakfast, dinner and supper, he ate nothing but syllabub and fruit-cake. The developed body must have meat, and the mature mind must have the strong food of laboriously-acquired knowledge. The brain must have not only steady but judicious employment, or, like an unoiled piece of machinery, it rusts. The young man who neglects this better part of himself will stand aghast, when confronted by the serious duties of life, on discovering how difficult it is to take on those habits of discipline which are essential to even temporal success.

The gist of this rambling article is to express the desire which we feel, as faithful and affectionate friends of the young people of this community, that they devote more time and attention to intellectual effort and æsthetic culture. Should our suggestion meet with favor, we doubt not that a hall suitable for the meetings of the club could be procured.

The "Mocker."

The pretty girls in the Valley of the French Broad dearly love the Southern mocking-bird (mimus polyglottus), greeting him with affectionate familiarity as the "mocker," and truly he is a charming fellow. These are the red-letter days of his short, happy life, and the insouciant, winsome egotism with which he poses as a soloist, to the delight of prince and peasant, beggar and lord, is delicious. From the tall maple on the edge of the swamp, where the mist rises from covert and dell, and the refreshed laborer hurries afield, "brushing with hasty step the dews away, to meet the sun upon the upland lawn," the mocking-bird salutes all listening nature with his matinee, borrowing for the repertoire of his wonderful performance the liquid whistle of the swamp sparrow, the wren's garrulous chatter, the sharp call of the thrush, the plaintive note of the robin, the bobolink's melodious lay, and even the exultant song of the lark soaring sunward above his head.

Nestling in the leafy depths of the topmost boughs of a holly alongside the glaring stretch of white sand upon the highway, beneath whose green curtain the tired wagoner at noon-day baits his horses and fans his streaming brow, the mocking-bird pours down his flood of song into the ears of this one auditor—now flirting a stray leaf from his russet crest, now ruffling his gray feathers (for his is a sober garb, and, like some famed maestro on the stage, he disdains the aid of scenic effects, and repudiates the idea that only "fine feathers make fine birds")—and his gracious hymnal follows the swaying rider and plodding team until the crack of the whip dies out beyond the distant hill.

As the sun goes down the mocking-bird flits from tree to tree, flushed with the triumphs of the day; and, from the coping of an ivied wall, sings wearied nature into soothing rest. The sweet voice, like a messenger of peace, floats through the open window of a chamber where a young girl lies sick, the brown hair sweeping over the pillow, the ripe lips fevered, and the fair cheek flushed. Deeper gather the shadows, fresher stirs the evening breeze, tenderer, softer, throbs the melody on the still air—and the girl sleeps, and smiles as she sleeps, and the bird sings on, while the stars come out, and the leaves gently rustle as if whispering together about the songster.

Mr. C. A. Holland, a Fayetteville man, and now one of the esteemed and successful citizens of Maxton, was in the city on Tuesday.

Fayetteville Presbytery.

The opening sermon by Rev. P. R. Law was worthy of the imposing body of delegates, of the impressive occasion, of the intelligent audience—of the well-known abilities and attainments of the gifted preacher. The vocal and instrumental music was most excellent, a grand old English anthem, rehearsed for the opening sermon, being beautifully rendered.

At the conclusion of his sermon, the retiring Moderator, Rev. P. R. Law, called Fayetteville Presbytery to order in the Presbyterian church Tuesday night, and the following ministers answered to the roll-call: Revs. Neill McKay, D. D., A. McMillan, Jas. McQueen, Jas. Evans, A. McQueen, H. G. Hill, D. D., David Fairley, A. N. Ferguson, J. S. Black, A. R. Shaw, Chalmers Moore, P. R. Law, T. P. Barclay, A. Currie, K. A. McLeod, J. M. Clark, J. W. Johnston, J. B. Mack, D. D., W. S. Friend, W. F. Shaw, G. A. Hough, M. N. McIver.

Nominations for Moderator were then declared the next order of business. The names of Mr. J. A. Womack, of Pittsboro, and Capt. J. D. McIver, of Moore, and Dr. J. B. Mack were placed in nomination, whereupon the two last named withdrew, and made the election of Mr. Womack unanimous. Messrs. G. A. Hough and A. D. Brown were elected temporary clerks.

Below we give the names of the Elders present, also their place of residence during their attendance on Presbytery, together with the places of residence of the delegates.

At the opening session yesterday morning the following committees were announced:

COMMITTEES.

Narrative to General Assembly.—Revs. A. Currie, J. M. Clark, D. Stewart.

Calls and Supplies.—Revs. J. S. Black, W. F. Thom, John McLauchlin.

Minutes of Synod.—Revs. Jas. Evans, M. N. McIver, Geo W. Wilcox.

Bills and Overtures.—Revs. P. R. Law, Neill McKay, D. D., H. McEachern.

Finance.—D. Stewart, Jas. Dalrymple, J. W. Scott.

Systematic Benevolence.—Revs. D. Fairley, C. Mopre, J. D. McIver.

Leaves of Absence.—Revs. K. A. McLeod, J. W. Johnston and John Blue.

Following four committees appointed on Sessional Records:

For first 15 Churches.—Rev. C. Moore, D. G. Smith.

For 2nd 15 Churches.—Rev. W. P. Thom and Ruling Elder W. C. Shaw.

For 3rd 15 Churches.—Rev. J. M. Clark and Ruling Elder W. J. Gillis.

For the remaining Churches.—Rev. A. N. Ferguson and Ruling Elder A. McKenzie.

Rev. P. R. Law was placed on the committee on the Tithe, in the place of Hon. Alfred Rowland, who was absent.

Rev. C. W. Byrd, of the M. E. Church, was invited to sit in the Presbytery as a visiting brother, and formally introduced to the body by the moderator.

Rev. Dr. Hill, as chairman of committee to ordain and install Licentiate M. N. McIver as pastor of Mark's Creeek Church, reported the work done, and the report was approved, and the name of M. N. McIver was ordered to be enrolled.

On motion of Rev. P. K. Law, the hearing of the report of the committee on Evangelistic Work in the Presbytery, and address by Evangelists, Rev. Dr. Mack and Rev. Mr. Martin, was made the first order of the day Thursday night.

Rev. J. P. McPherson, in view of the infirmities of advanced years, asked to be relieved from the care of his churches. The request was granted, and the matter referred to a special committee to draft a suitable minute on the subject.

Rev. A. R. Shaw tendered his resignation as Sunday School Agent, and his resignation was accepted, and Rev. J. M. Shaw elected in his stead.

The list of churches, comprising Fayetteville Presbytery, was next called, and found to be represented as follows, and we give below the location of the delegates as well as ministers:

Quite a number of Elders and delegates have arrived since our report was handed in, but next week's OBSERVER will contain a full and complete account of the proceedings of this Presbytery.

PROGRESS.

It is very important in this age of vast material progress that a remedy be pleasing to the taste and to the eye, easily taken, acceptable to the stomach and healthy in its nature and effects. Possessing these qualities, Syrup of Figs is the one perfect laxative and most gentle diuretic known.

Some of the Characters of Dickens.

Whose wife was always flopping?"
Who was always "waiting round the corner?"
Who was an "uncommonly lovely woman?"
What boy was constantly adjured to "move on?"
Who was a "fine figure of a woman?"
Who was constantly trying to "raise himself by his hair?"
Who was a "high-flyer at fashion?"
Who "knew their tricks and their manners?"
Who were the two "lime-merchants?"
Who was the "literary man with a wooden leg?"
Who was continually "twisting up her hair?"
Whose "buttons were always flying off?"
Who was the "dearest girl in the world?"

Life of Henry W. Grady.

Mr. A. S. Wightman has the ageney for the sale of the "Memorial Volume of the Life of Henry W. Grady," embracing his great speeches and principal writings, and will call upon our people in the interests of a book which should be on the library shelves of every lover of the South and every admirer of one of its most brilliant and remarkable men. In binding, make-up and typographical execution the volume is a model of beauty and taste.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, CUMBERLAND COUNTY.

In the matter of S. J. Cameron, Ad'n'r of Colin McP. Campbell, dec'd, vs. John Campbell and others named in the summons, heirs-at-law and devisees of Colin McP. Campbell, deceased.

Order of Publication.

It appearing to the Court that Malcolm Graham, Annie Graham and Isabella Graham, children of Margaret Graham, deceased, Daniel C. Graham and William W. Graham and the children of Alex. and Cattie Watson, names unknown, are all necessary parties to this action, the three first named living, as it is supposed, in the State of Mississippi, and the last named, as it is supposed, living in Richmond County, N. C., none of whom, after due diligence, can be found in Cumberland County, it is therefore ordered that publication be made in the Fayetteville OBSERVER, a newspaper published in the County of Cumberland, for six consecutive weeks, commanding the said defendants to appear before the Clerk of the Superior Court of Cumberland County, at his office in Fayetteville, N. C., on the 24th day of May, 1890, and answer the complaint of the plaintiff there filed, the purpose of which is to obtain an order for the sale of the lands of Colin McP. Campbell, deceased, to make real estate assets. And let the said defendants take notice that if they fail to appear and answer at the time and place herein named, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

A GOOD POSITION.

To ladies and gentlemen who desire to make money rapidly we offer a splendid opportunity. We have a large number of agents making from four to eight dollars per day selling pictures of Jefferson Davis for which there is a great demand everywhere. If you are already an agent, no matter what you are selling, you should carry our pictures. You will be surprised to see how rapidly they sell. Our outfit consists of four different styles of pictures, three of Mr. Davis and one of Henry W. Grady, size 11x14 in., which sell for fifty cents each. We have the finest steel engraving, which Mrs. Davis says is the best likeness she has seen of her late lamented husband, size 14x18 inches; price $3.50. Outfit complete consists of all the above mentioned pictures worth $5.00, but will be sent to those only who mean business for $2. This includes the fine steel engraving with frame and glass. We also have outfits for $1.00, but it will pay you to have the best. This is a great opportunity to make money, and you should order at once or write for particulars.

We pay agents 60 per cent. commission, and allow them to collect before returning our money on regular orders for pictures.

P. S. Pictures of either Jefferson Davis or Henry W. Grady album size 8 cents, both sent to any address for names of two agents and silver dime or postage stamps. All questions cheerfully answered.

SOME TIME.

Last night, my darling, as you slept,
I thought I heard you sigh,
And to your little crib I crept
And watched a space thereby;
Then, bending down, I kissed your brow—
For, oh! I love you so—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know.

Some time, when, in a darkened place
Where others come to weep,
Your eyes shall see a weary face
Calm in eternal sleep,
The speechless lips, the wrinkled brow,
The patient smiles may show—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know.

Look backward, then, into the years,
And see me here to-night—
See, O my darling! how my tears
Are falling as I write;
And feel once more upon your brow
The kiss of long ago—
You are too young to know it now,
But some time you shall know.

Business Methods in Farming.

W. J. Sothern in Southern Cultivator.]

When a farmer sells a bushel of wheat, a barrel of potatoes or a bale of cotton, he ought to know exactly the profit he is receiving. Many farmers object because the process of information is too long-continued. It begins with the preparation of the land, and goes on until harvesting is over. This, is, of course, an objection, but not an insuperable one.

To determine the cost of any product, it is only necessary to keep regular accounts against the fields as to the manure and labor expended in the preparation and cultivation of land and the gathering and marketing of crops. This is not more serious or objectionable than accounts kept against hired help on the farm for articles furnished.

These calculations, to be accurate, must be determined by each individual farmer. No one farmer can settle the cost of making a pound of cotton for any other farmer. There are many elements that enter into the cost of farm products, and possibly all of them vary in each individual instance. One man cultivates much more intelligently and economically than another; one man's methods, manure, stock, food and help come to him much more cheaply than another's; one man's farm may be much better adapted to certain crops than another's. The seasons upon any two farms are not expected to be uniform in their benefits, however nearly adjacent the farms, as they do not always find the same crops in the same condition. For these reasons, together with many others, it is plainly to be seen that each farmer must determine for himself the cost of his products.

This information, upon the farm, is necessary to determine the most economical labor. In all these years of experiment, not many farmers in the South can give, accurately, the difference in hiring help for wages or for part of the crop, because they do not know the cost of products of either method. It is highly important that our products be grown at the least possible cost, if we are to make our efforts produce the most good. With this view, every labor-saving method should be applied until the cost is reduced to the minimum.

What we greatly need on our farms is the same business method that is applied to any other enterprise—such a system as will let us know at any time what we are doing and what we ought to do. Anything short of this brings us a haphazard life that takes its chances of many evils.

Farm Notes.

Hay for horses ought to be of the best quality; it should never be over-ripe.

As no two animals are alike, it is wise to consult their special appetites and desires when feeding them.

The general opinion is that cows improve until they are seven or eight years old. It pays to take good care of the heifers.

Individual peculiarities of form have much to do with the amount of waste in animals, and the flavor of meat is greatly dependent upon what the animal has been fed.

Every farmer should raise pigs and cure his bacon. There is no meat equal to that produced at home. You will at least "know what you are eating," which is a valuable point in favor of home-raised meat, as only healthy, thrifty stock will be used for home supply.

Marketing Fowls.

The Examiner.]

Fatten surplus fowls before marketing them. This is best done by inclosing them in a small yard where they can obtain but little exercise, and feeding them liberally with mixed grain—corn, oats and wheat—with an occasional ration of boiled potatoes or other vegetables, chopped apples, etc. But just here is where the greatest caution is necessary, or you will kill the entire lot in less than a week.

Remember that when a fowl is being fattened it must have plenty of coarse gravel, broken crockery or glass to enable it to grind the increased quantity of food that you give it. It must also have abundance of pure water. With a sufficiency of these requisites, with a variety of food, a fowl will fatten nicely in about two weeks, and will then sell for the top price, while a common skinny cull will not fetch enough to pay for catching it.

Diversified Farming.

American Farmer.]

The one-crop system, followed up, will breed disease, no matter what the crop may be, but the rotation of crops will, in a measure, if not wholly, arrest its development. Diverse cropping on the same soil is measurably a preventive of disease as well as a rejuvenator of the land. Corn following corn, or wheat following wheat, for a series of years, is the prime cause of insect pests; whereas an absolute change not only of crops but of variety of crops—so as to induce a change in the method of cultivation, in the habits of plant growth and in the demands on the soil—will be very apt to prevent the development of insect pests.

Justice Lamar Tells a Good One.

Justice Lamar, of the Supreme Court, who never accepts a pass or a present of any kind, tells this one on himself: "Down in the locality I call my home lives old John Dillard. Some years ago John presented to me a very fine Alderney cow. I said: 'John, I never accept a present.' 'Well, Lamar,' he replied, 'just give me your note; and, as you will never pay it anyhow, you will be nothing out and a cow ahead.'"

Farmer—You kin feed them mules some corn in the ear to-night.

I tried that yisterday, sir, like you told me, and they 'peared to like it better in the mouth.

Wyoming has a law on its statute books without a counterpart in any State—a law securing equal pay for equal work to men and women as school-teachers.

FACTS FOR THE SICK!

Letter From an Eminent Divine In Regard to the Best Medicine in the World. Read.

WONDERFUL CURES.

ATLANTA, GA., January 2, 1890.

Six months ago, at the request of a friend who was interested in the sale of King's Royal Germetuer, I made a written statement of the benefits I had received from the use of that medicine. In that statement I expressed the belief that it would cure me entirely of Catarrh. Within the last two months I have received letters from every quarter of the nation calling on me for further information in regard to my health. It has been impossible for me to write privately to each person who has made this request, and I am therefore under the necessity of making another public statement.

I am free from Catarrh. I believe that I could get a certificate to this effect from any competent physician. I have used no medicine within the last six months except King's Royal Germetuer. My health is better than it has been in thirty years. I am in possession of information which warrants me in saying that the relief which I have experienced from the use of the medicine is not more certain and radical than that which it has brought to hundreds of persons in Georgia and other States.

I feel it to be my duty to say, also, that the effects of this remedy upon my wife have been even more signal and wonderful. She has been almost a lifelong invalid from Nervous Headache, Neuralgia and Rheumatism. In a period of thirty years she has scarcely had a day's exemption from pain. She has been using Germetuer about two months. A more complete transformation I have never witnessed. Every symptom of disease has disappeared. She appears to be twenty years younger, and is as happy and playful as a healthy child. We have persuaded many of our friends to take the medicine, and the testimony of all of them is that it is a great remedy.

J. B. MAWTHORNE,
Pastor First Baptist Church.

Royal Germetuer builds up from the first dose, the patient quickly feeling its invigorating and health-giving influence. It increases the appetite, aids digestion, clears the complexion, regulates the liver, kidneys, etc., and speedily brings bloom to the cheek, strength to the body and joy to the heart. For weak and debilitated females it is without a rival or a peer.

If you are suffering with disease and fail of a cure, send stamp for printed matter, certificates, etc.

For sale by the Atlantic Germetuer Company, 14 N. Broad St., Atlanta, Ga., and by druggists. Price reduced from $2.50 to $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. Can be sent by express C. O. D. if your druggist cannot supply you.

The World Moves!

Get Up and Ride!!

When the Big Guns in the Dry Goods trade, who are supposed to buy their goods on long time, insist on selling everything to everybody for strict cash, we think it is time for us heathen, who have to pay cash and cash only for our goods before we can ever see them, to follow in their illustrious footsteps.

It is a well-known fact that all dealers in Grain are compelled by the commercial law of the times to pay for their supplies before they can get them, however much such dealers may be worth, or however they may be.

GOOD

We have decided therefore to adopt the same rule in selling that we have to abide by in buying. In our case, this should always have been the rule. The unbusiness-like methods of others being our only excuse for wrong-doing, we trust that all of our patrons will "catch on" to the "new departure," and show their appreciation of our endeavors in the past to please them, by continuing to give us their patronage.

Recollect that we sell you

We also hold that to endeavor to do a

Hand to Hand Cash Trnasaction

with every purchase is not only impracticable but also unbusiness-like, and we wish it distinctly understood that accounts with parties of a known place of business, that are always promptly paid on presentation without any foolishness, is in our opinion cash.
